

I oppose the current attempt to allow banks to weaken Indiana's current telephone privacy laws. Prior contact does not give permission to call. The banks and credit card companies are the very ones who most abuse the public with unsolicited calls.